DOCTOR GUERRY

Without the inspired leadership of Dr. Guerry, Sewanee would still be floundering in the depths to which it sank some years ago. Through his executive genius the University has at last begun to experience economic stability, the campus and University plant have been vastly improved, active alumni groups have been organized throughout the country—these among other accomplishments attest to the work done by Dr. Guerry to make Sewanee the fine school it is today. Yet with all his executive duties the Vice-Chancellor finds time to endear himself to the students through his sincere interest in student activities. His genial friendliness, informality, and understanding of boys' character are his enduring traits that impress all his acquaintances; he is always eager to counsel and advise students. As a leader and as a friend Dr. Guerry inspires all who have been to school under him at Sewanee.

T I O N . . .

The other half of Sewanee's "head family," Mrs. Guerry, is the cheerful, gracious host we Sewaneeans know from attending one of her unforgettable meals or by chatting with her on a Sunday night visit. Worries and cares have a habit of vanishing when they are exposed to the charm of our Vice-Chancellor's wife, for she is constantly smiling and spreading good cheer, constantly going out of her way to make things easier and happier for us. This charming hostess has established herself as a necessary part of Sewanee life.

Thus it is to the beloved and admired Guerrys that we dedicate this, the 1940-41 "Cap and Gown"; they who have inspired Sewanee men to strive for the finer, for the nobler things in life.

The FACULTY

The faculty at Sewanee is organically related to the life of the students, for here is to be found a very close and intimate contact between student and professor. Here at Sewanee the professor takes a profound interest in his student and through the close personal contacts found only in the small university, he is able to teach him as an individual and as a distinct personality.

We of the University are proud of our faculty and justly so, for in no other university of this size is there to be found so competent a group of men as here. We realize that under the guidance of such a distinguished group of gentlemen, we are receiving that same training which has made Sewanee men the fine characters that they are; we are learning of principles and ideals that will live on after we are gone; we are learning those little philosophies of life which distinguish the Sewanee gentleman from the rest of the crowd. The development of mind and soul and body in an atmosphere of Christian culture is the ideal toward which we look and labor, and all this is made possible for us under the guidance and leadership of our Faculty.

Without such a Faculty Sewanee would die, but we need have no fear of this for Sewanee is as much a part of each one as he is a part of Sewanee.

PRESIDENT FRANK BALL

Order of Gownsmen

The most unique organization on the campus at Sewanee is the Order of Gownsmen. This group is the supreme student governing body of the school and all graduate students, theological students, juniors, and seniors who fulfill the requirements are admitted to membership and are entitled to all the rights and privileges which accompany the wearing of the gown.

Sewanee is one of the few schools which still clings to the tradition of the gown. Most of the other universities use the academic gown only during commencement exercises, but in Sewanee the Gownsmen must wear their gowns to all classes and chapel services.

All committees and student organizations derive their charters from this body and the standards of conduct of all students are set by it. The Order of Gownsmen, in cooperation with the authorities, acts as an efficient guide in all student problems. It is this body that keeps the real traditions of Sewanee alive, and after a Sewanee man passes over the years of being a freshman and a sophomore he receives the gown as an emblem of achievement and responsibility, for it is realized by all that the wearer of such has advanced far towards acquiring wisdom, reason, and judgment.

Proctors

The proctors are students appointed by the administration to supervise and discipline the dormitories. Each proctor is given jurisdiction over a single dormitory, yet his duties extend to include the whole campus. To be appointed proctor is a great honor, but with the position goes a heavy responsibility and only the most competent, reliable, and conscientious students can be chosen. In addition to duties in the dormitory, proctors check attendance in chapel and assist in general student discipline. This year Head proctor was Marshall Ellis, proctor of Cannon Hall. Other proctors were: Lee McGriff of Sewanee Inn, William Jacobs of Ambler House, John Longenecker of Johnson Hall, Ben Cameron of Tuckaway Inn, Tom Phillips of Hoffman Hall, Robert Manning of St. Lukes Hall, and Morgan Hall of Van Ness Hall.

Honor Council

Foremost in the mind of every Sewanee man is the highly respected code of honor which has been instilled in him as a student in the University. The honor system at Sewanee lays a foundation for high character and integrity and it is to the Honor Council that the proper functioning of this system has been entrusted.

Composed of students representing each class, it is the duty of this select group to see that the Honor Code retains a permanent place in the mind of every Sewanee student. It is their duty to impress upon every student the fact that "Honor" is not merely a word, but an institution at Sewanee. The students to whom this task is entrusted are elected yearly by the various classes. This year's members are: Richard Corry, president; David Dyer, William Coleman, Theodore Bratton, Brooks Cotten, Harry Goelitz, and Robert Manning.

Cap and Gown

It has been the aim of the 1941 "Cap and Gown" staff to present to the student body a complete and accurate resume of the '40-'41 school year. Realizing the advantages of photographs over writing to vividly depict campus scenes, it has been the policy of the staff to use pictures as frequently as possible.

Only through great labor and the complete cooperation of the staff, the photographer, the publisher, and the engraver has this yearbook been made available to you, but if it succeeds in recalling to you fond memories of a past year, that work will have been amply repayed.

The Sewanee Purple

The Sewanee "Purple" is published twenty-five times the school year. During the 1940-41 academic session there has been noticeable interest shown by many students in their official publication, which has resulted in the printing of more features of first-class readability.

Probably the most interesting issue of the year was the issue commemorating the Fiftieth Anniversary of Football at Sewanee. It consisted of eight pages with many cuts of today and yesterday, and a complete history of football in Sewanee since 1890.

The activities of the Sewanee "Purple" for the past two years have been connected in a large degree with the College Publications Board, which is made up of three faculty members appointed by the Vice-Chancellor, a member of the Senior Class and a member of the Junior Class. Valuable assistance has been rendered the entire staff of the "Purple" by the Publications Board, especially the Business Manager who, for the first time this year, has been made more responsible for the financial and advertising end of the paper.

Phi Beta Kappa

The highest honor a college student can achieve is membership in Phi Beta Kappa. Since first being organized in 1776 at William and Mary College, Phi Beta Kappa has expanded to include well over a hundred active chapters in the finest universities and colleges of the country. Before a chapter is installed in a school, its scholastic requirements and standards are first examined very closely and in order to maintain a chapter schools have to succeed in upholding a high scholastic record.

Tennessee Beta Chapter was established at the University of the South in 1926, and since then has been continuously active. To be eligible a student must be enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences and have an average of ninety-two for five semesters, or an average of ninety for six semesters. Prominent alumni may also be elected as honorary members.

The faculty members of Tennessee Beta Chapter are: Dr. Bruton, president; Dr. Baker, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Dugan, Dr. Frierson, Major Gass, Dr. Guerry, Rev. Hall, Dr. James, Mr. Kayden, Dr. Knickerbocker, Major MacKellar, Dr. Petry, Mr. Thorogood, Dr. Ware, Dr. Yerkes.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa is a national honorary leadership society and members are elected on basis of character, scholarship, and leadership. Membership in this society is highly regarded and next to Phi Beta Kappa is the most sought after honor in the college. These men who have been recognized for high standards of efficiency in collegiate activities are the most representative students in all phases of college life. The Sewanee chapter is limited to three per cent of the student body, and the requirement is also made that students be Gownsmen. O. D. K. aims at engaging in constructive work on the campus, and its ideals are: recognition, inspiration, opportunity, and character.

Having rapidly advanced since being first organized at Washington and Lee University on December 3, 1914, Omicron Delta Kappa now has many chapters located throughout the United States. The University of the South was granted its charter in 1929 and was designated the Alpha Alpha Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa.

B l u e K e y

Blue Key is an elective organization made up of those students best suited and able to serve the University of the South. To be eligible a student must be a Gownsmen and show exceptional qualities of character and capability. Working in coordination with the faculty the organization carries out the traditions of Sewanee by performing numerous services for the entire Mountain; outstanding has been the relief work carried out by the group for Sewanee residents. During the past year Blue Key contributed to the British War Relief Fund with a drive for contributions and also added to this with the institution of one meatless meal a week at Magnolia and Tuckaway to help England. In the field of bolstering student spirit this organization supervises the appointment of cheer leaders and arranges for pep rallies. In aiding the University in securing a larger enrollment, Blue Key has sponsored a drive to contact as many prospective students as possible. Besides the above mentioned services, this group has many projects planned for the future that will benefit the University and be of service to all those connected with Sewanee.

Blue Key was founded at the University of Florida in 1924 and was created a national organization in 1925. Members from the faculty are: Mr. Griswold, Dr. Scott, Major MacKellar, Dr. Frierson, Mr. Hall and Dr. Guerry. Student members include: de Rosset Myers, president; Messrs. Asger, Ball, Bodfish, Coleman, Corry, Dana, Ellis, Gass, Hale, M. Hall, Kirchhoffer, Lawson, C. Lee, McGriff, Longenecker, Robert, J. Roberts, Schuessler, Spencer, and Turner.

Scholarship Society

The Scholarship Society is a scholastic honor society which was founded at Sewanee for the purpose of stimulating greater interest among the students in their work and serving as a stepping-stone for those who aspire higher scholastic honors. It is the largest scholastic honor society on the campus, and in order to be eligible for election a student must be a member of the Order of Gownsmen and must have maintained a minimum average of eighty-five for four consecutive semesters. Each semester the Scholarship Society presents a trophy to the fraternity which has maintained the highest average for the preceding semester, and for the first semester of this year this trophy was awarded to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Debate Council

This year the Debate Council has experienced quite a successful season under the able leadership and excellent advice of Major W. H. MacKellar, longtime Professor of Public Speaking in the University. Unlike recent years, different teams have been available for every contest, and all have equipped themselves well with the verbal lance and the prosaic sword. Abiding by the precedent set some time ago, the debates are informal and non-decision, assuming more the form of round-table discussions in which no limits are set to the capabilities of the different speakers. This method has proved itself to be the most satisfactory.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Composed of two Gownsmen members from each fraternity, usually a junior and a senior, the Pan-Hellenic Council is established to regulate and coordinate the activities of the various fraternities. The Council issues rushing rules, regulates house dances, and generally governs fraternity functions. The Pan-Hellenic Council acts as a body to which disputes or suggestions may be brought and it is constantly attempting to improve the fraternity relations. Pan-Hellenic members are the following: Ball, Skinner, Alpha Tau Omega; Hale, DeWolfe, Delta Tau Delta; Andrews, Kochtitzky, Kappa Alpha; Miller, Gillespie, Phi Delta Theta; Phillips, Hill, Phi Gamma Delta; Ellis, J. Roberts, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Woodrow, Jackson, Sigma Nu; Pattillo, Elmore, Kappa Sigma.

Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu, an honorary Social Science Fraternity founded in 1924, possesses one hundred or more chapters located throughout the United States. From its beginning it has aspired to hold the position in the field of social sciences that is held by Phi Beta Kappa in literary studies.

Its purpose is the inculcation of the ideals of scholarship, scientific attitude, and scientific method in the study of all social problems. It aims to imbue its members with social idealism and a scientific attitude toward it.

Mr. Kayden and Mr. Thorogood serve as faculty advisers, and the members this year are: Robert Bodfish, president; Clendon Lee, vice-president; Manning Pattillo, secretary-treasurer; John Duncan, William Eyster, Winfield Hale, Robert Woodrow, William Jacobs, Armistead Selden, Thomas Ware, and Eugene Zeigler.

This body is composed of two members from each class of the University and two members from the Theological School elected each year by the students. With the leadership of the Chaplain, as a guide the Vestry promotes and furthers religious interests on the Mountain. Its duties are to secure visiting speakers for the chapel services, to decide what the offerings shall be used for, and to be responsible for the upkeep of the chapel fixtures. The vestry meets once a month, has a corporate communion, and discusses such affairs as may arise concerning the chapel.

Its members this year are: Frank Robert, senior warden; Robert Manning, junior warden; Phillip DeWolfe, secretary; Charles Knickerbocker, treasurer; C. Doyle Smith, Charles McCutchen, Louis Lawson, James McKeown, David Fox, and Charles Gray.

U n i v e r s i t y C h o i r

The University Choir is composed of thirty-five voices and is under the able direction of Mr. P. S. McConnell. The greatest function of the Choir is to add to the beauty and to the dignity of the Chapel Services. This it does very well through numerous practices and through the untiring efforts of Mr. McConnell. Just before Christmas at a special service Camille Saint-Saens' "Christmas Oratorio" was presented to the Mountain, and on Easter Day the "Solemn Mass," by Alexander Guilmant, was presented.

The Choir made two trips this year. The first trip was to Chattanooga immediately preceding the Christmas vacation when the Choir's talent was recognized and honored by an invitation to sing carols over radio station WDOD, and the second trip was made in the spring when the Choir were guests of Christ Church in Nashville for a special Sewanee service.

S o p h e r i m . . .

Outstanding literary ability is recognized at Sewanee by Sopherim. To be eligible for membership a student must be a member of one of the three upper classes, and the basis of entrance is an original paper submitted to the society. Sopherim is composed of four groups: poetry, translation, fiction, and non-fiction. These groups meet separately and produce material which is presented at monthly meetings of the chapter.

Student membership this year includes: Messrs. Robert, Asger, C. Lee, Pattillo, Sutherland, C. Gass, Turlington, Cameron, Ware, Zeigler, Atkins, Bratton, Corry, Ransom, Rodney, Knickerbocker, Cianella, Coleman, Collins, and Allin. Faculty membership includes: Dr. Knickerbocker, Dr. Frierson, Mr. McConnell, Mr. Moore, and Dr. Govan.

The German Club

The dances at Sewanee are second to none others elsewhere and largely responsible for their repeated and continued success is the German Club. An organization, to which any student may belong; it has time and again sponsored dances which will not soon be forgotten by those who have attended them. Membership entitles one to attend all dances sponsored by the German Club at a sizeable reduction in the cost of the tickets, and the membership fees serve as a backlog upon which the organization can depend in contracting with well-known, popular dance bands.

The executive committee of the German Club is elected each year by the student body and consists of a president, a treasurer, and a secretary. Mr. Griswold acts as faculty adviser to the club and through his able guidance the organization has progressed rapidly in recent years. The success of the dances depends wholly upon the interest shown by the student body and the primary object of the German Club is to stimulate this interest. This year Winfield Hale is president, William Coleman is treasurer, and Frank Greer is secretary.

The S Club

The "S" Club is an organization composed of all men who have won the varsity "S." Its purpose is chiefly to interest students in athletics at Sewanee. As a part of this program, the "S" Club each year sponsors a group of boxing and wrestling matches, as well as an "S" Day, marking the end of spring football practice, when it puts on an intra-squad football game, and sponsors an "S" Club dance to which all students are invited. At this dance a certificate is awarded to each letterman and a trophy is presented to the outstanding senior athlete. This year the trophy was awarded to Robert Macon.

Another function of the "S" Club is to see that all athletic contests in which Sewanee plays host to outside schools are run off smoothly. These include the Mid-South track meet, the state track meet, and all occasions upon which Sewanee competes with other schools.

Next year's officers are: James Lyle, president; Wallace Welch, vice-president; and Gene Pierce, secretary-treasurer.

Alpha Psi Omega

A national honorary dramatic fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega draws its members from the Purple Masque. The standards for entrance are high. A candidate for entrance must be a member of the Order of Gownsmen and must either take major roles in two plays, write and produce a play, or engage in active work as a stage hand. Major MacKellar is the faculty advisor for the organization and is much responsible for its success. All plays produced at Sewanee are produced under the joint auspices of the Purple Masque and Alpha Psi Omega. Its membership includes: Nicholas Hamner Cobbs, Jr., president; William Hosking, Winfield Hale, and Phillip DeWolfe.

Purple Masque

The Purple Masque, Sewanee's dramatic society, has this year been under the able leadership of Mr. Griswold, assisted by Mr. Hall and Mrs. Govan. Under their supervision three one-act plays were presented to the student body early in the year in an effort to create interest and to find possible talent for the longer production "Margin for Error" which was presented in the latter part of May.

While acting is probably the most noticeable function of Purple Masque, there are equally important functions of it not so noticeable, but just as essential—those of direction, stage arrangement, and scenery making.

The officers this year are: Hamner Cobbs, president; Richard Higginbotham, secretary; and William Asger, treasurer.

Acolyte Guild

This year Chaplain Hall has brought a vast improvement in the Acolyte Guild: its membership has been greatly increased, duties and the method of serving has become more clearly stated, and the Order has generally been far more successful than ever before. The real purpose of the Guild is to add dignity and beauty to the chapel services while performing the necessary duties. Any student who is willing to devote a reasonable amount of time to assisting in chapel services and in helping improve and beautify the chapel and its services is eligible for membership.

Members of the Acolyte Guild this year are: Richard Corry, president; Messrs. Allin, Beasley, Blakeslee, W. Bratton, Carpenter, Collins, Cracraft, Cureton, Davis, Diffenbaugh, R. Emerson, Fox, Garrard, Gourdin, Hobson, Hill, Hughes, Lynch, Moise, McKeown, McCauley, Kizer, O'Brien, Peck, Palmer, Paul, Platte, R. Prior, Robertson, Ragland, Sullivan, Stoney, Shaw, Whiteside, Wood, Yerkes, Yochem, Bedell, Bardin, Crane, Donaldson, Gray, Gresley, Havens, Hawkins, Perot, H. Prior, Robert, Rembert, and D. Trapp.

Flying School

Last fall the University was given permission by the Civil Aeronautics Authority to enroll twenty students in the Primary Flight Course as a part of the government's Civil Pilot Training Program. The students responded enthusiastically to this novel opportunity, and in a short time the quota was filled with nineteen boys and one girl, Miss Alice Hodgson.

The actual flight training consisted of 35 hours of dual and solo instruction, given by the Sewanee School of Aeronautics, Inc., at Manchester, Tennessee. Ground school classes were held for two hours three nights a week on the Mountain. The subjects, including Meteorology, Navigation, Civil Air Regulations, and Mechanics, were taught by Drs. Petry and Scott, with the aid of the flight instructors. The entire course lasts for one semester.

In spite of many obstacles, such as the time lost commuting to the airport, the first semester's program was a splendid success, as is indicated by the fact that of those who stood their final flight and written tests under a CAA Inspector, 100 per cent passed and now possess Private Pilot's Licenses. This record is distinctly better than the average of other flying schools, and is largely due to the enthusiasm and cooperation on the part of the students.

Because of the thorough precautions which the instructors and the administrators have taken, there have been only one or two minor accidents and virtually no injuries of any sort, in spite of the hundreds of trips back and forth to the airport, and the hundreds of flights which have been made. Equipment at the airport includes two Piper Cub J-3 Trainers, and a new Aeronca Trainer. The University was donated two Packard sedans which are used for commuting.

There is every indication that this semester's program will be just as successful as the first one was, and if this is the case, the University plans to continue the flight training in the years to come, either with or without the CAA's financial backing. Pending the government's action, there are plans for offering the Advanced Flight Course next year to those who have successfully completed their primary training. There is also considerable interest being shown in plans for forming a Glider Club during the summer months. Meanwhile, those who now hold their Pilot's Certificates are eligible for further flight training in the Army or Navy Air Corps, and several have already applied for admission.

CAPTAIN ROBERT MACON

Sewanee's 1940 football team, while winning no more games than its predecessor, the 1939 team, showed a distinct improvement, as it scored 132 points to the '39 team's 43. In the first year under Coach Jenks Gillem, the Tigers played some good football, and some very mediocre football, but all indications point to a gradual improvement during the next few years.

Sewanee opened its 1940 season by crushing Cumberland University, 49-0 in a game played on the mountain. Led by Captain Bob Macon, the Tigers scored at will. The Purple eleven stuck to straight football, and hammered the Bulldog line to shreds. Bob Macon led the scoring parade with two touchdowns, while Sandy Sandifer, Jimmie Lyle, Woody Dunn, Dan Cotter, Owen Stoughton, and Dick Corry scored one apiece.

The Tigers racked up an amazing 25-6 win over their traditional rivals, the T. P. I. Eagles, in the second game of the season with the greatest offensive show the mountain had seen in years. Led by Woody Dunn, a brilliant 190-pound sophomore wingback who scored two touchdowns, one on a 57-yard run from scrimmage, Sewanee showed a brilliant offense, and during the first half, played great football. Other touchdowns were scored by Charles "Primo" Wiley, veteran end, who took a 23-yard forward pass from Earl Bearden, and rolled 19 yards for a touchdown, and stubby Jimmie Lyle, who bucked one over from the two-yard line. Outstanding for Sewanee in his first game was Sophomore Frank Walker, a frail-looking end, who was to amaze Sewanee fans later in the season.

Sewanee journeyed to North Carolina for the third game of the season, the Davidson game, and came back on the short end of a 27-20 count after having the lead no less than three times. Once again, Sewanee revealed a potent offense, but ragged defensive work, especially in the last four minutes, cost Sewanee its third victory. The Tigers drew first blood, early in the second quarter, when Earl Bearden, standing on his own 38, passed to Woody Dunn on the Davidson 25. Dunn lateraled to Frank Walker, who raced unmolested for the first tally. A few minutes later, a 60-yard Davidson drive culminated in a touchdown, and the score was tied. Sewanee again took the lead when a short pass from Bearden to Macon went for a touchdown, and the Tigers left the field with a 13-6 half-time lead. The Wildcats opened the second half with a brilliant passing attack that put them back in the running, tying up the game at 13-all, but Sewanee came right back as a pass from Bearden to Walker, a 15-yard run by Bearden, a 10-yard blast by Dunn, and a two-foot smash by Lyle put Sewanee in the lead for the third time. With less than minutes of playing time remaining, Bearden kicked out of bounds on the Davidson four, and the game appeared to be over. However, a smashing Davidson attack was climaxed with a beautiful pass that tied up the game, and a minute later, a desperate Sewanee attempt to break the tie saw a Tiger pass intercepted deep in Sewanee territory, and the Wildcats shoved over the winning marker.

A badly crippled Sewanee team took a 20-6 lacing from the greatest Chattanooga team in history. The Moccasins struck early, scoring twice in the first six minutes of play, but Sewanee hopes were quickly revived as Woody Dunn took a Chattanooga kick-off back 99 yards for a touchdown. John Duncan, veteran Sewanee guard, was lost for the season as the result of a broken foot. Outstanding for Sewanee were Frank Walker and Gene Pierce, playing his first game in a Sewanee uniform.

Sewanee journeyed 1,250 miles to Hanover, N. H., where they lost a 26-0 decision to the Dartmouth Indians in a sea of mud. The Tiger forward wall was unable to stop the smashing Dartmouth off-tackle blasts, and with Sandy Sandifer, Sewanee's ace tailback still on the injured list, the Purple offense failed to show any results. The Tiger air attack, which had been instrumental in gaining Sewanee a favorable standing in the New York newspapers, was completely throttled by the wet weather. Outstanding performances were turned in by Gene Pierce, Frank Walker, and George Morris, a reverse back who made the only sizeable Sewanee gain all day.

The annual Vanderbilt classic again resulted in a Sewanee defeat, but the game was not without its compensations. The defense was the best that the Tigers had presented all season. The Vanderbilt running game was unable to click, and the Commodores had to take to the air for their first touchdown. An intercepted pass gave Vanderbilt their second score, and a poor punt set up the third tally. Outstanding play was exhibited by Frank Walker, Gene Pierce, and Ham Caldwell in the line, and Earl Bearden in the backfield.

Sewanee's losing streak was stopped at four straight, as an inspired Tiger eleven won a 25-13 decision from a rugged Washington & Lee team. The Purple opened the scoring with a Sandifer to Frank Walker pass good for 40 yards and a touchdown, but the powerful Generals, who were not to be denied, smashed back late in the second quarter to tie the score at 6-all. The third quarter was all Washington & Lee. The Generals put on an offensive show that had Sewanee dizzy, and they went ahead, 13-6. The break of the game came late in the third quarter when the W. & L. center passed over the punter's head, and big "Primo" Wiley, recovered for Sewanee on the W. & L. one-foot line. Bob Macon bucked it over for the tying tally. With two minutes and forty seconds of playing time remaining, a Sewanee drive was instituted by Earl Bearden, who plowed off tackle for 15 yards to his own 44. Then Walker made a magnificent catch of a Bearden pass and raced to the W. & L. 29 before he was hauled down. Three plays later, a Bearden to Dunn pass saw the Tigers on the W. & L. four, and the reliable Bob Macon slammed over guard for the deciding tally as 80 seconds remained. But Sewanee was not through, W. & L. again lost possession of the ball deep in their own territory, and with six seconds left, Earl Bearden swept wide to the right, and cut over tackle for the final touchdown.

Sewanee closed its in-and-out 1940 season with a discouraging 13-7 loss to an apparently weaker Citadel team in Charleston. The Tigers led 7-6 at halftime, but a blast of Citadel power in the third period put the game on ice for the Light Brigade. Once more, the uncertain Sewanee line cost the Tigers a ball game, for they were unable to stop the bull-like rushes of Citadel's Marty Gold, who scored both touchdowns for the home team. Sewanee's tally came late in the second quarter, when a pass, Sandy Sandifer to Park Owen, was good for a touchdown, with Earl Bearden centering. Outstanding for Sewanee were Frank Walker and Park Owen, ends, Gene Pierce, guard and Earl Bearden, veteran back.

The season was climaxed by the recognition received by Frank Walker, brilliant sophomore end. Walker was chosen on many all-opponent teams, and received honorable mention All-American end by the Associated Press. Sewanee's two iron men, Earl Bearden, and Gene Pierce received favorable notice from sports-writers everywhere. Pierce, who was declared eligible just two days before the Chattanooga game, played five consecutive 60-minute ball games, while Bearden played five 60-minute games, and one 55-minute game. Letters were awarded to Charles Wiley, Park Owen, Wallace Welch, and Frank Walker, ends; Dan Cotter, Dick McCauley, Ham Caldwell, and Gantt Boswell, tackles; John Duncan, Jimmie Gillespie, Walter Stokes, Eph Kirby-Smith, and Gene Pierce, guards; Sam McCutchen, center; and Captain Bob Macon, John Roberts, Dick Corry, Jimmie Lyle, Woody Dunn, Earl Bearden, Sandy Sandifer, and Algeo Fleming, backs. Earl Bearden was elected captain for 1941.

COACH JOEL EAVES

BASKETBALL

Despite the fact that the records show only one victory for the season, Sewanee's varsity basketball team displayed more spirit and team fight than has been seen in Tiger cage teams for some years.

Opening at Auburn with a brace of games, Sewanee was forced to play without the guidance of Coach Joel Eaves who was left at school with a case of flu. Playing well in the first halves of these two games, it appeared as if the favored Plainsmen might be upset, but it was the finishing drive that counted, and the Tigers lost two close ones, 36-24 and 39-25. Sophomores John Yochem and Gene Pierce showed up well in these encounters, Yochem getting 24 points for the two nights.

Following these two losses, the Tigers primed for their opening home contest with the rangy Vanderbilt five. The Commodores walked off with a 42-28 decision mainly because of the inability of Sewanee's defense to stop Pinky Lipscomb. Pierce looped 10 points but scoring support from the rest of the team failed.

Still seeking their first victory, the Tigers were rudely treated down in Cookeville, Tennessee, when the T. P. I. Eagles imposed a 49-27 defeat. Personal fouls took Sewanee's entire first team out of the game. Yochem was Sewanee's top scorer, gathering 11 points.

JUMP BALL

Continuing to play hard, though not quite effective enough basketball, the Tigers suffered consecutive losses to David Lipscomb of Nashville, Vanderbilt, Georgia, and Murfreesboro State Teachers. It was a case of missing too many shots and not being able to compete against superior height that brought defeat to the Tigers. Bob Bodfish showed tremendous improvement in these games, and Captain Johnny Roberts and Co-Captain Wally Welch played their consistent and steady games, yet Sewanee could not break into the win column.

Traveling down to Chattanooga for the final game before the lay-off for exam week, the Tigers were determined to whip the University of Chattanooga five, and it appeared as if they might when the game ended in a 24-all deadlock. In the overtime period the Purple counted first on a free throw but this was soon swept aside as the Moccasins rallied to win 29-25. One bright spot in defeat was the return to form of hook shot artist Jack Wetzels, who swished four quick field goals near the end of the game.

Finding George Blakemore just a little too much, the Purple returned to the hardwoods to lose two home-and-home games with Southwestern. Overeagerness again played havoc with the Tigers, as the first game had to be completed with only four Sewanee players on the floor, the rest of the squad being out on fouls.

It began to appear as though the Tigers were destined to close the season without winning a game as losses inflicted by State Teachers, T. P. I., and Auburn brought up the year's finale with Chattanooga. The team still had something to say about that, however, and playing determinedly and practically errorless, Sewanee completely trounced the Moccasins 28-17. Yochem led the Purple with 12 points.

With only one senior, Bob Bodfish, on the squad, Sewanee can look forward to a more successful season next year. Ross Apperson, Graham Roberts, Wetzels, Yochem, John Roberts, Welch, and Pierce will all be back, and with other squad men and freshmen, Coach Eaves will have a great deal more to work with during the 1941-42 season.

T E N N I S

The 1941 tennis team is the best balanced team seen on the Mountain in many years. The Tigers, although almost wholly lacking in varsity experience, won nine out of fourteen matches this year. With only one varsity man back from last year, Paul Thrasher, the Tigers opened the season at home by bowing to a great Presbyterian team 9-0. The next day saw the Tigers on a two-game road trip in Alabama. Birmingham Southern was defeated, and Alabama's Red Elephants were victorious.

The week of April 15 saw Sewanee splitting even, winning from Chattanooga and T. P. I., while losing to Wayne and Kentucky. April 26 found the Tigers winning over Southwestern 4-2 at Memphis. The Tigers opened the T. V. I. tourney in Chattanooga by decisively defeating the University of Chattanooga for the second time. Alabama defeated the Tigers on the Mountain, but a return engagement with T. P. I. saw Sewanee out front again. The following week the Tigers defeated Southwestern for the second time.

Sewanee closed the season with two very brilliant victories. It first copped the T. I. A. A. meet decisively by winning the team trophy as well as the doubles championship, singles championship, and runner-up singles championship. Trapier Jervey and Charles Freer composed the doubles team as well as being winner and runner-up respectively of the singles. In the closing meet of the year Sewanee defeated Vanderbilt 4-3, and in this same meet Trapier Jervey defeated Joe Davis, three-time winner of the S. E. C. tennis championship.

The team this year is composed of: Captain Paul Thrasher, Trapier Jervey, Charles Freer, Berkeley Grimboll, Charles Blakeslee, and Winston Cameron. Dr. G. S. Bruton is again coach.

G O L F

For the first time the Athletic Board of Control is giving the golf team its full support, this year's schedule being a great improvement over those preceding it. Though lacking the services of last year's Spake and Holmes, the team's performance in defeating Vanderbilt in two practice matches last fall gave promise of a highly successful season. The squad opened its schedule by competing in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament, and while there dropped a practice match with Tennessee by a score of 12 1-2 to 5 1-2. Though this proved to be a rather poor start, the team has been steadily improving, having won the only three matches played to date. Led by Alfred Sams, the team including Wetzel, Cotten, Phillips, and Woodrow, defeated Spring Hill and Southwestern, both by a score of 12 1-2 to 5 1-2, and Cumberland by the easy margin of 71 1-2 to 1-2. The remainder of the schedule is comprised of matches with Vanderbilt, Tennessee, and a return match with Southwestern. The interest shown by everyone in the performance of this year's squad is a great encouragement to the development of a really fine team in the future.

T R A C K

Sewanee's 1941 track team has been one of the most successful teams in recent years despite the fact that the team has yet to win a dual meet. Coached by Dr. David Frierson, the Tigers opened their season at Cookeville on April 11, losing by a 69-48 count. On April 22, the Tigers lost to a strong University of Chattanooga team, 85 1-3-45 2-3.

In the Tennessee Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet held at Sewanee on May 10, the Tigers were nosed out for third place by Chattanooga mainly because of the Tiger's weakness in field events. The University of Tennessee thinly-clads copped this meet. Sewanee's points were taken mainly by Carter, who won the 220-yard dash and placed second in the 100-yard dash, Captain Longenecker, who took a third in the 100-yard dash and a second in the 220-yard low hurdles; Hughes, who placed fourth in the 440-yard dash, and the 880-yard relay team composed of Carter, Longenecker, Peck, and Hughes which won first place in this event.

Outstanding men for Sewanee are: Frank Carter and Captain Johnny Longenecker in the dashes; David Hughes, George Peck, and Frank Carter in the middle distance; Henry Seaman and David Lockhart in the long distances; Longenecker and Bob Lide in the hurdles; and Ed Davidson, Dan Cotter, and Gene Pierce in the field events.

Captain Longenecker and Dan Cotter are the only seniors on the squad, so prospects for next year are very bright.

FOOTBALL

Despite the lack of an adequate coaching staff, Sewanee's Baby Tigers showed a good deal of ability during the three games of the 1940 season. A 90-yard run by Harry Logue proved the margin of victory in the season's opener against Tennessee Polytechnic Institute which Sewanee won 7-0. Opposite a vastly superior Vanderbilt freshman team Sewanee was powerless, and although they played a hard, driving game were defeated 49-0. The season's finale against the Chattanooga Yearlings was close all the way, but the Frosh did not have the scoring power and lost 20-0. Many of this year's Frosh have shown so much talent, however, that they are already being counted to add needed strength to the 1941 Varsity.

BASKETBALL

The Freshman basketball team this year was hampered by a scarcity of able reserves, yet in spite of this they succeeded in winning about half of their games. Sewanee Military Academy was defeated by the Frosh in two early season games, and as the year progressed, victories were achieved over Scottsboro High School, Columbia Military, and others. Working their attack around sharpshooting Bill Perry, the Baby Tigers displayed both an aggressive defense and offense but failed to play steadily, hence many games were lost when they slacked up on their attack. Besides Perry, John Gerhardt, and Bob Herzog played well all season.

FRESHMAN TEAMS

Intramurals

The intramural programme at Sewanee enables every student to enjoy a widely varied schedule of sports. New additions this year are badminton and squash, which go under the head of minor sports. A new scoring-system has been used this year whereby the winners of the major sports receive 40 points for first, 20 points for second, 10 for third, and five for fourth. In the minor sports the winner receives 20 points, the runner up 10, and third place five points.

With this programme, boys in each fraternity can participate whole-heartedly in every sport and get that exercise necessary to his health without actually going out for varsity teams. So far this year, intramural athletics have helped to bring out fraternity spirit as well as school spirit, and due to a well-rounded programme, practically every student in the University has taken part in these sports. Intramurals are, indeed, one of the most popular features of the University life.

According to season, football is first on the schedule. The Kappa Sigmas took a well-deserved first place, winning all eight of its games and being scored on only twice. This is the second consecutive year that the Kappa Sigmas have gone undefeated and their second year as champions. In second place came the surprising Sigma Nu Six, dealing quite a few upsets to unsuspecting teams. The A. T. O.'s and S. A. E.'s tied for third place, while the K. A.'s followed in fourth place. The whole season was unusually exciting, as this six-man football is probably the most popular sport of all. The All-Greek team as chosen by the athletic committee was as follows:

The next division of intramural athletics is the very popular sport, volley ball. The Kappa Alphas, champions of last year, completed their season unbeaten, brushing aside all comers with great ease. In second place came the Kappa

Intramurals

Sigmas, fighting hard for those placement points. The Phi Deltas followed with third place honors, beaten only by the two teams ahead of them. This sport was played in the newly-fitted upper room of the old gymnasium. Here volleyball and badminton are played, without disturbing the other sports being played in the new gymnasium.

Basketball, the January-February division of athletics, followed after Christmas, games being played at night so as not to disrupt varsity basketball practice. The S. A. E.'s were the winners this year, as last year, with a stellar quintet that showed perfect teamwork and precision. The Kappa Sigmas drew second-place honors with an exceptionally good team. In the last game of the season between the S. A. E.'s and the Kappa Sigs, a crowd turned out that was as large as any varsity attendance. Third-place honors went to the Delta Tau Deltas; the Phi Gamma Deltas followed in fourth place.

Next to football, probably, the most popular sport is track. There is one big meet in which all fraternities participate. No one is considered ineligible and real talent is shown. On the first day preliminaries are run, weeding out the poorest contestants and leaving room for the real track men. The winners were the S. A. E.'s with 49 1-2 points, followed closely by the Phi Delta Thetas, who scored 44 1-2 points. In third place were found the A. T. O.'s and in fourth place the Kappa Sigmas. Due to the excellent quarter-mile track and to good material, a real interest was shown in the meet this year.

Of the minor sports, handball is probably the most popular on the schedule because of the excellent inside courts available at any time of the year. Greer and Davidson won the doubles title for the Phi Delta Thetas, taking first honors from the runner-up S. A. E. team. Another sport, becoming more popular every year, is squash, played on the same court as handball. Excellent equipment is provided and due interest is shown. Higgenbotham, playing for the Outlaws, won the squash crown, defeating Lide of the Phi Delta Thetas in the semi-finals and Tynes, also of the Phi Delta Thetas, in the finals. Beach and Williams, S. A. E.'s, captured the Badminton trophy by defeating the Kappa Sigs in the finals. These minor sports play a very important part in the athletics of the students, and add greatly to the general interest in the whole programme.

At the present writing baseball season is in action and there is no way of telling who will be the winner. A new diamond has been arranged and a scoreboard system has been installed. Baseball is, of course a major sport and it is treated as such, the students showing a great deal of interest. Some real pitching and fielding talent has been shown thus far. The A. T. O.'s, Phi Gams, Phi Deltis, and Outlaws are leading the league on the first of May.

In the spring, tennis is the main sport of the student body. The four compound courts are the pride of Sewanee and are considered the best in the South. The most valuable aspect of these courts is that they are capable of being played on under practically any weather conditions. The Southeastern Conference and the State matches are usually held on these courts. At the present the intra-mural tournament has been launched and a few matches played.

For swimming, the students go to the S. M. A. pool which is within close walking distance. The swimming meet is yet to come. However, the winners of last year, the Phi Delta Thetas, have their team practically intact and are expected to repeat, closely followed by the S. A. E.'s. Although the students do not have a pool directly on the campus, the Academy pool is available to them at all times.

The spacious golf course is rapidly coming to be one of the most commonly used facilities of Sewanee. During the past few years it has improved greatly. Instead of going to picture shows in the afternoon, students now turn out for a game of golf on the excellent nine hole course. At this date the entries have all been received and the first matches have been played. Any fraternity has a chance at winning because each has at least one or two good golfers.

By arrangement with the Vanderbilt intramural committee, post-season contests are played between the winning fraternities in football, basketball and baseball. Sewanee fraternities have not fared so well this year. The Kappa Sigmas lost in football to the Dekes, and the S. A. E.'s lost in basketball to the Sigma Chis. Cups are held for a year by the winning fraternity.

Acknowledgment

The building of a yearbook is a hard and tedious job, and without the complete cooperation of the University, faculty, staff, photographer, engraver, printer, and binder, its successful completion would be impossible.

We wish to thank Mr. John Benson of the Benson Printing Company, Mr. Robert Faerber of the Alabama Engraving Company, and Mr. W. C. Bales, our official photographer, for their help and cooperation in completing the physical make-up of the "Cap and Gown."

We especially wish to thank Mr. Alfred Eisenstaedt and Pix Incorporated, for allowing us to use the pictures Mr. Eisenstaedt took of the University for "Life" magazine. These pictures have added a touch and spark to the annual which would be unavailable without their use.

We wish to thank the advertisers in the "Cap and Gown," for without their cooperation the annual would be only a dream.

We wish last of all to thank our staff for its invaluable aid throughout the year; and to Mr. William Moise, our art editor, we are particularly indebted for his long hours' work on the cartoons and drawings. It is upon the staff that the success of an annual depends; and if this be deemed a successful annual, it is to these men that the credit is due.

The University of the South

What Sewanee Stands For . . .

The Education of the Whole Man—

His body, in a physical environment and training almost ideal.

His mind, through courses in a scientifically correct curriculum, and through contact with a faculty strong in scholarship and personality.

His character, through the constant influence of Christianity as expounded and exemplified in the life of the University community.

The Making of a Citizen—

In theory, through the influence of that ideal of patriotism which we call the Sewanee Spirit.

In practice, through the dynamic living as a citizen in a community of which the student body constitutes the citizenship.

Individuality, Originality, Initiative.

Taught to think independently, plan independently, but to act as a community member.
